OFFICE:—In addition block, South Door
Entered as Second Class Matter October 1
1908, at the Post Office at Logan, Ohio, under Act of Congress of Feb. 3, 1879.

Thursday, July 29, 1909.

NOW THAT the hottest months of the year are upon us, it seems to us that a grand work could be done by the church societies or some of the clubs in the matter of furnishing ice to the sick poor who are not able to buy. Many little babies and sick old people suffer in the hot season for want of ice. Will not some club or some society take up the work and relieve some of the suffering. Surely there is a reward in the world to come for such persons.

It is a good time now for the Health Officer of Logan to make a general order for the cutting of all weeds on vacant lots and people's premises, and also to order the Street Commissioner to cut all weeds in streets and alleys. Among the most prominent reasons for this important work is that the pollen from the weed is one of the strongest irritants for the hay-fever sufferer, and another reason for the cutting now is that they will soon be seeding and millions more weeds will come up from them next year. Let's make a rade on the weeds.

MR. DOUGLAS, the congressman, made a great splash before the house of Representatives about the tariff that should be revised downward. He places himself on record now as a friend of low tariff. For the land sakes, when did Albert Douglas get to be a Democrat low tariff advocate. Has he not been a strong McKinley man and Hanna man all the political lives of these statesmen, and their high tariff policies were the powers that elevated them to the places that they held of political honor. Has not Mr. Douglas, all his political life, advocated a high tariff? What has changed his mind on the subject? Is it not that the genial gentleman has discovered that the low tariff idea has gained in popularity, and he wants to sugar his constituents. Is it not possible that he is looking forward to a nomination for higher office than that of Congressmen. Has he not his lightning rods out for the office of Governor? There is surely method in his madness.

THE DEMOCRATIC idea of international government has always been either free trade, reciprocity of tariff for revenue only. Is not this a fact? Is it not a fact that the Republican party hounded the Democrat party from ocean to ocean, as the free trade party, and proclaimed that our policy would ruin the country. Is it not a fact that the Republican party crushed and displaced James G. Blaine and forced him out of the president's cabinet because he dared to advocate free trade with the countries that offered us free trade; dared to advocate reciprocity with other countries. They branded him as a traitor to his party and removed him from the office of Secretary of State, crushed him in spirit and he died of a broken heart. Is not all of this a fact? You know it is. Now at this late date, when their high protective tariff policy has ruined the business of the country, they turn to the Democratic idea, and admit by their action that perhaps the Democratic party is right all of the time. Some of the greatest statesmen of the Republican party have seen the light, and are now standing like the rock of ages against the Aldrich-McKinley-Hanna high protective tariff policy, and advocating free trade or tariff for revenue only. Among these great Statesmen are Senators LaFollett, Cummins, Beveridge and even President Taft has caught the popular wave and says the tariffs are too high. He is a politician. Throughout Ohio and through this Valley it is gratifying to hear former high protective tariff advocates, now coming to the Democratic idea of a low tariff. Coal men all over Ohio are watching with much interest the popular demand for changes on the present tariff bill to free trade in coal, or at least reciprocity in the coal trade between the United States and Canada. To the Ohio coal men reciprocity means a big revival in the coal trade of the state, and especially in the Hocking valley field. The adoption of this policy would mean that coal lands in the Hocking Valley would advance in price and the miners of this district would get steady work again. It would open up to Ohio coal the great market of central and western Canada, and would practically double the shipments made both by lake and rail to the docks in the Northwest. The low tariff policy is right, and should prevail, and the people will see to it that it does prevail.

Newspaper Changes Politics.

The Tuscarawas Herald, a Republican paper at Canal Dover, Tuscarawas county, had an editorial in a recent issue announcing its intention to support Democratic principles hereafter. The editorial concludes with the following paragraph voicing approval of Governor Harmon's administration:

"As governor, Judge Harmon is making a record which not even the Republicans can assail and his re-election next year by a larger majority than last year is already considered certain. That re-election and the good administration which Harmon is giving and will continue to give, the State will make him the logical nominee of his party for President in 1912. With his good record, with the Democrats united, and with the broken tariff promises of the Republicans, his election can be prevented only by some unforeseen extraordinary circumstances which are not likely to arise."

There are other Republican papers in Ohio which have a similar feeling although they may not admit it nor swing over into the Democratic column, while thousands of Republican voters feel the same way and will vote that way next year. They may not say much about it but they want to see Governor Harmon complete the house-cleaning he has so well begun, and they are going to help the Democrats to make it. "Harmon and a clean sweep next time."

Theodore Burton.

These are heart-rending days for Republican papers in Ohio that boosted Burton for senatorship. About the most pitiful object in the state is the republican organ at Columbus, the Ohio State Journal. Under the same stress of woe the Cleveland Leader is almost inconsolable, while some of the lesser luminaries try bravely to twinkle in silence. They had so much to say about the pure statesman who could be relied on to be an unflinching champion of the people. Now they look over the "honor roll" and find such names as Beveridge, and Bristow, and Cummins, and LaFollette, and half a dozen more, but not the name of Burton. Before Dick voted Burton voted, and Burton's name is found on Aldrich's list along with Dick—the same Dick whom some of those papers have reviled. No wonder there is inexpressible agony in the sanctums of some of these Republican organs. They are once more found guilty of helping to fool the people of Ohio. They can't be depended on to pick a candidate for senator or for any other office who can be depended on by the people after election. Next year a legislature will be elected that will select a successor to Senator Dick. It will avail nothing to elect a Republican legislature even though the Ohio State Journal, the Cleveland Leader, and their satellites be permitted to select the man for Dick's place. If Burton was their first choice then spare us from their second choice. To make sure of it elect a Democratic legislature next year. That is what the people of Ohio should have done last fall. Had they done so Burton would not today be a shattered idol on a broken shrine of the g. o. p.

Skunk Hollow

Well, it seems like we are going to have a little winter mixed with our summer by the looks of things. John H. Wagner met with quite an accident, Thursday of last week; he was taking the thrashing machine to the residence of Saul Bauer and a water pipe bursting, dashed the venerable John's back-of-the-neck full of hot water, causing John to nurse a few blisters. He said if it had been a bottle with hot stuff and hit him in the mouth, it would have done him good and not made a blister. J. L. Sollenberger and family, of Lancaster, visited S. W. Sollenberger, last week. Mrs. John Klump and granddaughter called on the former's brother, one day last week. C. W. Walter was a Logan shopper, one day last week and also made his wife a present of a beautiful stand. Old Crupper took supper with C. W. Walter and wife, one evening last week. Louise, Clara, Ed and Geo. Miller were visiting Caroline Ulmer, one day last week. A. M. Ellinger is busy stacking wheat at present. Those from around here that were Lancaster callers at the reunion of Rev. Kaunberger's church, at Lancaster, were the following: A. M. Manuel, Fanny, Christina and Henry Ellinger, wife and daughter Florence, Cora Sanford, Alta Kull and Frank Miller and wife; all report a grand time.

Those that helped John H. Wagner thrash his wheat, last week, are as follows: John H. Wagner and son, Carl Shull, Vern Dupler, S. W. Sollenberger, Gottlieb Klump and son, Fred Gruner, John Kermiller and son, Lee Evans of Lancaster, Ed Miller and Jake Ulmer, Mrs. Grin and Mrs. Klump got up a good dinner for all. Mrs. John Wagner called on Mrs. Will Kermiller, Thursday of last week. Hello Logan Route 2, you ask me how I know your name is "Frank." I am a detective of the first water. Well, Brier Hollow, are the berries plentiful? It keeps you from writing. Say, I'll lend you a merry widow hat, providing you get a wife to wear it. Hello Lena Shull, that ham was just fine. Old Crupper's bees didn't swarm as yet, but will let you know in time. Jake Daubennier and son Homer were seen trying our streets, one day last week. John Wagner was trying to dance the highland fling and cut his ankle to the bone on a piece of glass. Kathryn and Sarah Wagner were Sugar Grove callers, last week. Gertrude and Hazel Sollenberger, of Lancaster, called on their aunt, Clara Wagner, one day last week. Hello Nellie Sollenberger, how do you like fried chicken, it makes Old Crupper have fits just to smell it. Hello J. J. Kull, of Reno, Pa., why don't you answer some of my questions and don't let on you are deaf, for you didn't use to be.

Logan, Route 2

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kessler of near Logan, were the Sunday guests of the former's parents, Mrs. Joseph Kessler and family. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Poling and Master Carlos were the Sunday guests of Mr. Noah Wolfe and family. Susie and Buelah Poling made a call on Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McLin at Logan, the latter part of the week.

Notice of Appointment

Estate of James W. Hagley, deceased. The undersigned has been appointed and qualified as Executor of the estate of James W. Hagley, late of Hocking County, Ohio, deceased. Dated this 28th day of July, 1909. JOHN HAGLEY, Executor.

We have lost one of our most estimable ladies. John M. White has just commenced the erection of a new and dwelling house in the White Bros. Addition. The Laurelville Grain & Mill Co. will soon complete their large building. The machinery is arriving daily and in a few weeks will be ready for operation. Geo. Fetherolf and Earl Steele, two of our young teachers, took a turn at hay-making last week. The boys not being much in sympathy with the "farmer's days" took contract by the load. After the allowance for board and incidentals, we hear the boys had just enough money to take them to the Darkey Camp Meeting. They are looking for another job, and say they will leave it if they have to go out of town to find it.

A Great Success

The Logan Business College is now open and an assured success, indicating and proving what I firmly believed, that Southern Ohio wanted a business college and would show its appreciation by sending its sons and daughters.

You are welcome to inspect the college and see for yourself what I have given you, and go where you will you cannot find a more thorough and honest course, more capable instructors, or a more healthy business like atmosphere in which to study and work.

New Students Can Enter Any Day and since the work is arranged so as to give each and every pupil Individual Instruction nothing will be missed and every one will get the full and complete course.

Position Guaranteed Upon Graduation

My offer holds good—and I back it up with a signed guarantee. If I don't make good you get your money back—nothing could be fairer. You can't lose and you have every thing to gain. Remember that the Logan Business College is a branch of the Columbus Business College of Columbus, Ohio, a recommendation sufficient in itself. The same course, the same methods, the same everything brought to you at home.
